IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS AFTER THE EXECUTION OF A CODICIL TO YOUR LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Please remember that a Codicil is an amendment to your Last Will and Testament and does not replace your Last Will and Testament. These two documents are now known as your Last Will and Testament (the "Last Will and Testament"). You should place your original Codicil with your original Will, in a safe place such as a safe deposit box at your bank branch or in a fireproof lockbox or safe in your home.

In the future, if you wish to make any further changes in the Last Will and Testament, these changes must be made with the same formalities as were used in executing the Last Will and Testament. Therefore, do not attempt to make any changes in the Last Will and Testament yourself. DO NOT WRITE ON THE WILL OR THE CODICIL. Should you wish to make changes to your documents, please contact an attorney. Depending on your individual circumstances, we may recommend that any future changes to Last Will and Testament be made by executing a new Will, and not another Codicil.

REMEMBER KEEP THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT IN A SAFE PLACE.
